

Name: Doris Läßle

Photo:

Nationality: German

Current position: Associate Professor, School of Business and Economics,
University of Galway, Ireland

Research areas: Agricultural Economics, Climate Change Mitigation, Dairy Economics.

Education: PhD Economics, University of Galway, Ireland
MSc Agricultural Economics (Diplomagraringenieur) Technical University of Munich, Germany

Other responsibilities and positions:

Associate Editor, Journal of Agricultural Economics

Personal home page:

<https://sites.google.com/view/dorislaepple/home>

Selected publications (max 5):

Balaine, L., Läßle, D., Dillon, E.J. and Buckley, C. (2023) Extension and management pathways for enhanced farm sustainability: Evidence from Irish dairy farms, European Review of Agricultural Economics, 50(2), 810-850.

Läßle, D. and Osawe, O. W. (2022) Concern for Animals, other Farmers or Oneself? Assessing Farmers' Support for a Policy to Improve Animal Welfare, American Journal of Agricultural Economics, available online.

Läßle, D., Carter, C., and Buckley, C. (2022) Milk quota abolition, greenhouse gas emissions and Irish agriculture, Agricultural Economics, 53(1), 125-142.

Osawe, O. W., Läßle, D., Hanlon, A. and Boyle, L. (2021) Exploring farmers' attitudes and determinants of dairy calf welfare in an expanding dairy sector, Journal of Dairy Science, 104(9): 9967-9980.

Läßle, D., Barham, B. and Chavas, J.-P. (2020) The role of extension in dynamic economic adjustment: The case of Irish dairy farms. European Review of Agricultural Economics, 47: 71-94

Challenges facing the EAAE:

Diverging opinions between stakeholders (i.e. farmers, environmentalists, industry, policy, etc.) and researchers in relation to sustainable food systems

What I would like to see achieved in the next Board period (September 2023 – August 2026):

Support a constructive debate on how to facilitate a more sustainable food system